Notice of Information Practices

Investigative Consumer Report

In addition to requesting a report from MIB, as part of our underwriting process, we or one of the insurance companies listed on the next page may request an investigative consumer report to confirm and supplement the information about your general health, employment and occupation, finances, smoking habits, and hazardous activities. Such a report may also cover your mode of living, except as may be related directly or indirectly to your sexual orientation, but including alcohol and drug use, general reputation, and driving record. Some of this information may be obtained through personal interviews with you or your family, friends, associates, or other with whom you are acquainted. If a consumer information report is requested, you may request to be personally interviewed if you can be contacted during normal business hours. An interview is normally conducted, but you are entitled to make a specific request. We keep such information reports confidential and use them only to evaluate and underwrite your application. You have a right under the Fair Credit Reporting Act to make a written request to inspect and obtain a copy of a consumer information report. If we request a report and the report has an adverse effect on your insurability, we will notify you in writing and give you the name and address of the reporting company.

Disclosure of Information

We treat what we know about you confidentially. Our employees are told to take care in handling your information. They may get information about you only when there is good reason to do so. We take steps to make our computer database secure and to safeguard the information we have. We may disclose personal information about you without prior authorization under certain circumstances. For example, we may disclose information about you to persons or organizations to allow such persons or organizations to perform a business, professional or insurance for us, or an insurance support organization, or to provide information to determine eligibility for insurance benefits or detect fraud, misrepresentation, or material non-disclosure. We may give information to accounting firms performing audits, governmental agencies reviewing our practices, or attorneys hired to protect our legal interest. Information may be disclosed to reinsurance companies or other insurance company to which you have applied for coverage or benefits. Information may be furnished your agents to aid them in providing adequate service to you. Other disclosures may be made as permitted or required by law. We may also disclose information to medical professionals where required by law for the purpose of informing you of a medical problem of which you may not be aware or to persons or organizations for the purpose of conducting research, including actuarial, marketing, and underwriting studies. This may include various insurance industry groups that conduct studies about risk experience or medical backgrounds of insured's lives. No medical record information or personal information relating to your character, personal habits, mode of living or general reputation will be released to anyone who receives personal information for the purpose of marketing a product or service.

You Can Review and Correct Your Information

Generally, we will let you review what we know about you if you ask us in writing. (Because of its legal sensitivity, we will not show you anything that we learned in connection with a claim or lawsuit). Also, if the law allows us to do so, we may decide to disclose what we know about your health only through your health care provider. If you tell us that what we know about you is incorrect, we will review it. If we agree with you, we will correct our records. If we do not agree with you, you may tell us in writing, and we will include your statement when we give your information to anyone outside First American Insurance Underwriters, Inc.

If you want to know more about our privacy policy, please contact us at First American Insurance Underwriters, Inc., 460 Hillside Avenue, Needham, MA 02494.

*MIB is a nonprofit organization of life insurance companies and operates an information exchange for its members. Upon request of a member company, in connection with determining your eligibility for insurance, MIB may supply that member company with information in its file. Member life insurance companies and their reinsurers may make brief reports of certain medical and non-medical information to MIB regarding any person for whom coverage is sought. If you contact MIB, it will disclose information it has about you in its file. If you feel the information in MIB's file is not correct, you can ask it to correct the information as provided in the Federal Fair Trade Act. You can write to MIB, Inc., Post Office Box 105, Essex Station, Boston, MA 02112 or call 617.426.3660.
